ANTI-TRUST CHARGES AGAINST GROUP MOVIE DISTRIBUTORS UPHELD

TEXAS EXHIBITORS ALSO INVOLVED CASE RULED UPON BY HIGHER COURT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—The supreme court sustained today anti-trust charges brought by the justice department against a group of leading motion picture distributors and Texas exhibitors.

In a five to three decision, the tribunal held that the Sherman anti-trust law had been violated through film licensing agreements under which restrictions were placed by eight nationally known film companies on competitors of Interstate Circuit, Inc., which operates Texas movie houses.

Justice Stone delivered the majority decision which held the northern Texas federal district court "rightly enjoined enforcement and renewal of these agreements."

He added that the fact that the moving pictures involved were copyrighted did not save the companies from anti-trust violations. "An agreement to license pictures to exhibitors," Stone said, "is not any less because the competitive article is copyrighted."

In a dissenting opinion, Justice Roberts contended that the agreements were "not conspiracies contemplated by the Sherman act and the holding that they are goes far beyond anything this court has ever decided."

Justices McReynolds and Butler joined in the dissent.

Under the agreement, the government said, films shown at "first run" theaters operated by Interstate Circuit could not be shown at "subsequent run" houses unless the latter charged a minimum admission price of 25 cents for lower floor seats at night. The "first run" theaters charged 40 cents or more.

Some of the competitors also were required, the government said, to agree not to show the films as part of "double features."

Motion picture distributors involved were Columbia, Fox, Me-

HIGHLY INFLUENTIAL GROUP IN CONGRESS HUNTING FORMULA APPLY PRESENT RELIEF PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—A highly influential group in congress is hunting for a new formula to apply to the relief problem.

Discussion started before the recent row over how much money Congress should appropriate for relief. The other came from Representative Woodrum (D-Va.), chairman of a house subcommittee which handles relief appropriations.

The two ideas are pretty far apart, but are being used as a basis for compromise. The Byrnes plan would increase unemployment compensation payments under the federal security act and also set up a new department of public works to take over activities of WPA, PWA, the bureau of public roads and the construction division of the treasury. The Woodrum measure would trim the relief appropriation for

SPANISH INSURGENT GUNS HURLED SHELLS INTO MADRID MONDAY

HEART OF CIVIL WAR IS BROUGHT BACK TO ANCIENT CAPITAL OF SPAIN

PERPIGNAN, France (At the Spanish Frontier) Feb. 13. (AP)—Spanish insurgent guns, hurling shells into the heart of Madrid, brought the civil war back today to the ancient capital, where the government was striving to rally its dwindling forces.

Government dispatches said more than 100 shells fell in the crowded central streets of Madrid Sunday, killing 16 persons and wounding 23.

Insurgent air raids on government cities caused more than 100 deaths at Jativa, 40 miles south of Valencia, and 20 deaths and injuries to 55 at Alicante. Valencia also was bombed.

The central Madrid-Valencia zone had been quiet while the insurgents carried out the campaign in northeastern Spain, which started Dec. 23 and ended last week in the conquest of Catalonia.

Premier Juan Negrin of Republican Spain presided at a cabinet meeting yesterday in Madrid. A proclamation to the nation was published, calling for union of all classes to carry on a resistance like that besieged Madrid had shown since November, 1936.

Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco had insisted on the unconditional surrender of the government.

The present struggle from both sides today lapsed back into the laconic phrase "nothing to report on any front."

RECOVER BODIES Trio Of Men Who Drown in Lake

HAMILTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—Bodies of three men who drowned in Lake Edison, five miles north of here Saturday, were recovered several hours later.

They were Cecil Whittenton, 31, of Houston; J. 20, of Dallas, and Alton Sloan, 32, brother-in-law of the Whittentons, at whose home the two latter stopped when they came here to visit their parents.

A pleasure craft in which the three embarked was found undamaged on the lake, its gasoline exhausted.

The witness said the national organization "never campaigned" but has been seeking only to interest the people in its "national education program."

Jeffrey said Townsend clubs were only interested in supporting candidates "friendly to our program."

AT LEAST TEN DEAD, MANY INJURED OVER WEEKEND IN TEXAS

TWO DIE IN PLANE CRASH, THREE DROWN AND THREE SHOT TO DEATH

(By The Associated Press.)

At least ten persons were killed and eleven others injured in shootings, drownings, bludgeonings, plane and auto crashes in Texas during the week-end.

Harrell King and Glen Morton of Abilene died in a plane crash in which G. E. Turner, also of Abilene, was injured critically.

Searchers recovered the bodies of Cecil Whittenton, 31, of Houston; his brother A. G. Whittenton, 20, of Dallas, and their brother-in-law Alton Sloan, 32, of Hamilton, who drowned as they were pleasure boating near Hamilton. At Fort Worth, Miss Elvira Patisin drowned in the ship canal.

Three men died violently at Houston, George Borgstrom, 54, a storekeeper, was bludgeoned to death by a unidentified assailant; Nick Maldonado, 23, was shot fatally in a tavern brawl; and Justice of the Peace W. C. Ragan returned a suicide verdict in the shotgun death of Clifford Beach, 47, cafe owner, found slain shortly after Miss Thelma Earp, former waitress in the Beach cafe, was wounded as she stood in front of the building.

John Elsetta, 37, of Liberty, was found shot to death in an automobile parked in front of a residence near Baytown. A pistol lay on the car's rear floor.

Wounded by a pistol bullet, Charles Corbin, 45, lay near death in a hospital in San Angelo, where he was employed in the corollation department of the San Angelo-Standard-Times.

Eight persons were injured in automobile accidents in or near Dallas.

HOUSTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—Clifford Beach, 48, restaurant proprietor, was found shot to death in his restaurant here last night shortly after a charge from a shotgun had struck and wounded Thelma Earp, 23, in front of the cafe.

Justice of the Peace W. C. Ragan returned a verdict of death.

THOUSANDS PASSED BEFORE POPE'S BIER ST. PETER'S MONDAY

CONGREGATION OF CARDINALS BEGIN PREPARATIONS TO NAME SUCCESSOR

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 13. (AP)—Thousands more passed the bier in St. Peter's cathedral for a last view of Pius XI today as the congregation of cardinals began formal preparations for the conclave which will choose a new pope.

Foreign cardinals who will participate in the election continued to arrive and today the congregation received the man charged with informing the secretaries of their gathering, Prince Don Ludovico Chigi-Albani.

Prince Chigi acted at the election of Pius. Members of his family, the cardinals of the papal conclave, had had the responsibility continuously since 1712.

Those who came early stayed for the funeral mass, the second of nine successive daily services. Archbishop Pietro Piazzi, Canon of the Basilica, celebrated the mass today.

An estimated 200,000 filed past the body of the pontiff in the

GOVERNOR O'DANIEL DECLARES OPPONENTS OF TRANSACTION TAX ARE DUE FOR RUDE AWAKENING

AUSTIN, Feb. 13. (AP)—Opponents of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's 1 per cent general transaction tax had a rude awakening today when they "are away on a limb" and he is "about ready to saw it off."

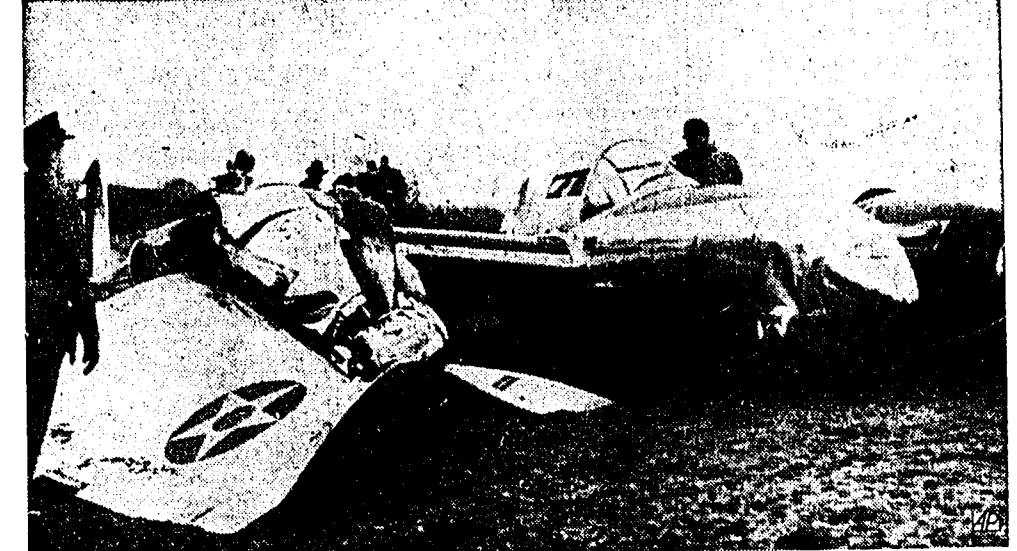

O'Daniel defended the tax again in his Sunday radio broadcast, calling arguments against it "preposterous and untrue."

The talk differed from those of the two preceding Sundays in that the chief executive devoted much of his time to the transaction tax. He did not mention the senate's rejection of two of his most important appointments, something no other governor in recent history has experienced.

He said he "intended" what he would do with the bill to meet the impending crisis in old age pension financing.

His only reference to his campaign to abolish capital punishment, which formed the main part of the broadcast a week earlier was a brief claim of victory in the controversy about his

TO ADD VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL COURSE

INCREASING AGRICULTURAL INTEREST BRINGS ACTION EDUCATION BOARD

Courses in vocational agriculture are to be added to the Corsicana High school curriculum, W. H. Norwood, superintendent of public schools, has announced. This addition has been made by the board of education in response to the increasing agricultural interests of the students who transfer to Corsicana from adjacent school districts and because of interests created by establishment of the new county fair baby beehive contest, Mr. Norwood said.

In the beginning, only the first year (1-2 units) and the second year courses (1-2 units) will be offered. The third course will be added later if there is a demand for it.

The addition of these three units of affiliation will increase the credit offering of the Corsicana High school to 44. At the normal rate of progress of four courses per year, it would require eleven years for one student to receive credit for all the courses offered. It is apparent that there is a trend toward a longer high school term and a number of students are planning courses of study which will require five years and will have completed 20 or more units at graduation. This tendency has been interpreted as a wholesome reaction by the students in the

Two Youths Are Killed As Plane Wrecked Sunday

ABILENE, Feb. 13. (AP)—An airplane pancaked and crashed three miles south of here yesterday, killing two young men and injuring another critically.

Glenn Morton, owner of the plane, an unlicensed, rebuilt craft, and Harrell King, both of Abilene, were killed, and G. E. Turner, also of Abilene, was not expected to survive his injuries.

The crash occurred as the three returned from Stamford, 35 miles north of here, and were apparently seeking the pasture where Morton kept the plane.

King, a Hardin-Simmons University graduate, and Turner, were employed here at a fertilizer and independent refinery and a filling station here.

Six Automobile Casings Stolen Sunday Night

Four cases of theft in which six automobile tires were removed from the vehicles while parked in garages or adjacent to residences in the 400 block of West Third and West Second avenues Sunday night were being investigated by city officers Monday.

Officers reported the thieves usually jacked up the cars and left the axles atop of piles of bricks after the tires were removed. The third case was reported last on the ground in most instances.

Among those known to have lost tires were:

Rufus Hardy, Jr., 615 West Third, two from car in garage.

C. W. Dowdell, 228 West Third, two from car in garage.

Leon M. Scholl, 608 West Third, tire off car in street.

LEGISLATURE OPENS SECOND MONTH OF ITS SESSION ON MONDAY

NUMBER OF STATE DEPARTMENTS WOULD BE CONSOLIDATED BY GOVERNOR

AUSTIN, Feb. 13. (AP)—As the legislature plunged into the second month of its general session, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel today recommended consolidation of a number of departments of the government into a single economic unit.

In a special message to the legislature, he proposed consolidation of the state board of water engineers, the state reclamation engineer, the livestock sanitary commission, the game, fish and oyster commission and feed inspection work being done at A. and M. college in a "department of agriculture and livestock."

His message elicited no immediate comment in either house or senate.

From the governor's office also came an announcement Ernest O. Thompson, member of the railroad commission, would be re-appointed as Texas member on the interstate commerce commission.

In the house, a move to have that entire body attend a hearing tomorrow night before a house committee on a bill to reorganize the state government under a local option plan failed.

The senate heard an assertion it should abolish executive sessions for confirmation of rejecting gubernatorial nominees, or an alternative, abolish "leaks."

It came from Sen. J. J. Sulak of LaGrange, himself a publisher, who said he would introduce a resolution tomorrow citing a news correspondent to tell where he obtained information that Sulak made a motion in executive session to resign Gov. O'Daniel's appointment as trustee of the state life insurance commission.

"If it were true I would not be talking about it," he said.

Adjournment cut off senate debate on a bill by Sen. Olan Zandt of Toga prohibiting counties from selling auto registration plates at a discount.

He said it was directed at stopping a "racket." Under state law counties retain the first $50,000 of the sale of license plates and on the remainder up to $75,000. He asserted some counties were illegally registering cars and trucks in attempts to swell local funds. The bill was pending at adjournment.

Debate spiritedly but withdrawn subject to call at the author's instigation was Sen. Penrose Metcalf's proposed constitutional amendment requiring annual registration of all voters exempt for age from payment of a poll tax.

He withdrew it for further study after several colleagues fired a barrage of questions, some asserting it was unfair to the aged. Under present law persons 60 years

TECHNICAL DEFECTS NOT TO BLAME FOR SUPER-PLANE CRASH

PHENOMENAL SPEED MAINTAINED IN FLIGHT ENOUGH WEAR OUT IRON MAN

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. (AP)—Findings of an eight-man board of inquiry in the crash-up of the army's speediest new pursuit plane after a record transcontinental flight were in the hands of U. S. Army authorities today in Washington.

Col. James Chaney, commanding officer of Mitchell Field, Long Island, where the twin-motored super-speedster crashed into Saturday after striking a tree, said defects were not to blame for the crash.

Raising the possibility that "man failure" was responsible, other officers at the field said continuous flight at the phenomenal speed maintained by Lieut. Benjamin Kelsey was "enough to wear out an iron man."

The National Aeronautic association clocked his dash from March Field, California, at seven hours, 45 minutes and 36 seconds. The association said his flying time of seven hours and 36 seconds was the lowest ever registered in a cross-country hop but that his two stops made his total elapsed time 17 minutes and 11 seconds longer than Howard Hughes' non-stop record of 1937.

DISPUTES OVER FEDERAL JUDGESHIPS AND FOREIGN POLICY

CONGRESSIONAL SESSIONS SHORTENED MONDAY BY ADJOURNMENT FOR POPE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—Disputes over presidential judgeship appointments and the administration's foreign policy continued today in a legislative session shortened by adjournment in respect to Pope Pius XI.

Senator King (D-Utah) blocked for the second time senate confirmation of James W. Allison as a federal district judge in Texas.

The senate military committee rejected a motion to make public testimony it had taken on the sale of American-made warplanes to France.

SECRETARY HULL DECLARES IT IS SACRED DUTY OF GOVERNMENT MAINTAIN ADEQUATE DEFENSES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—An assertion by Secretary Hull that America would meet any foreign challenge with "determined defense and resistance" was a sacred duty of any government served today as a prelude to the first congressional debate over the $552,000,000 armament program.

Hull told a radio audience last night that as long as there was possibility of attack it was "the sacred duty of any government worthy of the name to maintain adequate defensive forces."

The definition of "adequate forces" will become an issue when the house takes up tomorrow a bill to authorize $300,000,000 for new army planes, $23,000,000 for Panama Canal defense, and $32,000,000 for civilian pilot training.

Although opponents admittedly held little hope of making important changes in the measure, Representative Martin of Massachusetts, republican floor leader, advocated spreading the army's purchase of 8,000 new planes over three years instead of two.

CONSOLIDATION OF FOUR DEPARTMENTS ASKED BY O'DANIEL

DEPARTMENT AGRICULTURE AND LIVESTOCK WOULD TAKE OVER FUNCTIONS

AUSTIN, Feb. 13. (AP)—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel today proposed, in a special message to the legislature, consolidation of agriculture, livestock raising, fruit growing and conservation and reclamation of state lands under a new department of agriculture and livestock in furtherance of his economy program.

The governor termed his proposal emergency legislation and took cognizance of the fact arguments would arise over maintenance of the separate bureaus.

"I believe that sound business judgment dictates that the interest of the state would be served if the work of the state board of water engineers, the state reclamation engineer, the livestock sanitary commission, the game, fish and oyster commission and the work being done by the A. and M. College in inspecting feeds sold within the state, were all placed in one department to be known as the 'Department of Agriculture and Livestock.'"

Control of the proposed new department would be vested in a board to be composed of 31 members, one member selected from each of the 31 senatorial districts. The members of the court could be elected by the people or appointed by the governor.

Duties of the board would be to serve as a general policy determining board, and, among other duties, it would be their responsibility to select the commissioner of agriculture. Board members would serve without pay, except by actual expenses incurred in attending meetings.

He cited that the federal government had urged that conservation of game and fish could be handled under general direction of the department of agriculture and added that "certainly there is much argument in favor of the thought that the preservation and utilization of game and fish, as well as underground water of the state, is a problem vitally associated with agriculture."

Mississippi Man Hanged For Murder Young Neighbor

RALEIGH, Miss., Feb. 10.—(P)—Pearlie Houston Evans was hanged at 8:47 a. m. today for the murder of his farmer-neighbor, 19-year old K. C. Jones.

Evans was pronounced dead. Sheriff D. C. Hall of Smith county sent the 38-year old slight statured Evans to his death on an improvised gallows adjoining the new concrete and steel jail in the Raleigh courtyard.

Excitement developed within the box-like gallows after Evans had been cut down. Doctors discovered a heart movement as the body rested on the ground, and Evans might become a man who hanged and lived.

Doctors later ascribed the belated heart shudder to the after effects of a drug administered before he was crowded from his jail cell to the gallows.

Less than a dozen persons witnessed the hanging, but outside hundreds milled about. The crowd was silent and orderly.

MARTIN RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Feb. 11.—(P)—The Texas Press Association today adopted a resolution opposing a bill pending in the legislature by which the state would assume approximately $200,000,000 worth of old county road bonds.

"We believe such a plan" the resolution read "would set a dangerous precedent and constitute an unfair and unjust diversion of Texas collected from the motor-list and would retard the work of completing the highway system on an "progress" basis.

The resolution was advocated before the association, which was in the final day of its convention by Lowry Martin, Corsicana publisher and president of the Texas Gasoline Association.

A plan for a good-will tour next may of a delegation of Texas headed by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel to eastern industrial centers and the New York World's Fair was also made.

J. V. Carroll of Houston, representing the Texas merchants association, asked the association to actively oppose the Fair Trade bill now pending in the legislature, contending the proposals were price raising and price fixing in nature and would violate the state anti-trust laws.

Martin gave the Texas press a share of the credit for the present modern system of highways in the state.

"In the early days of the split-up of Texas," he said, "it was the purpose that I advocated good roads. There has always been an effort made to grab some of the highway funds to carry out pet projects. Less than two of every five cents of taxes collected from the sale of a gallon of gasoline goes to highway construction.

"Yet under this pending legislation, they want to take even more of the gasoline tax money away. The only ones who will profit will be some of the counties and bond salesmen and promoters. Twenty-eight of the 254 counties would absorb 58 per cent of all the money diverted."

MEN VICTIMS CRASH SOUTH OF CORSA LANA

The bodies of A. H. Meeks, aged 50 years, and Oad Colbert, aged 59 years, Navarro county's first and second 1939 traffic fatalities, both of Oklahoma City, were forwarded to their homes early Friday morning by the Sutherland-McCannon Funeral Home, where funeral services will be held.

Meeks was killed instantly Thursday morning about 5 o'clock when the car in which the two men were riding plunged into the rear of a parked disabled truck on Highway 75 near Angus, 36 E. Field, via highway, patrolman, and Deputy Sheriff Jeff Spencer made an investigation of the accident. Colbert was rushed to the P. and S. Hospital in a critical condition, where he died Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Officers reported that a rear wheel on the truck figuring in the accident, had run off and the driver, L. R. Henson of Corsicana, Tex., attempting to jack the car up, told the officers said Henson had left the truck's lights burning and had put out warning flares before the crash, and saved his own life or serious injury when he jumped into the ditch along the highway a second before the crash.

The car was proceeding in a northerly direction when it hit the truck, the officers reported.

Meeks was head salesman for the National Cash Register Co., Oklahoma City. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. C. A. Moore, Jr., and Miss Geraldine Meeks, all of Oklahoma City.

THIRTY-SEVEN MEN WERE RESCUED FROM GROUNDED TANKER

POUNDRING SEAS AND DENSE FOG OVERCOME TO SAVE
LIGHTBURN'S CREW

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I., Feb. 11 (AP)—Gasoline which had spilled into the sea from the grounded tanker Lightburne became ignited today and threatened for a time to spread to the heavily loaded vessels.

The gasoline ignited with a roar after an automatic flar lifebuoy fell from the rail of the ship. A heavy column of flame and smoke rose within 50 yards of the tanker, abandoned by its crew of 37 during the early morning hours.

A member of the staff of the Providence, R. I., Evening Bulletin reported by radio from the island that hope of saving the ship lay in the fact the wind was blowing the flames toward the sea, away from the side of the grounded vessel.

Earlier Coast Guards fought their way through heavy seas, darkness and a dense fog to control the rescue of the crew of the 410-foot vessel.

The immediate danger of explosion appeared to have been averted after the fire had burned for approximately an hour, it was reported by Earl Carr, keeper of the Block Island lighthouse, who watched the spectacle from his vantage point about a quarter of a mile from the ship.

In describing the scene, Carr said the patch of gasoline which first became ignited fortunately was held separate from other patches of gasoline floating on the water by the off-shore wind.

Coast guards later reported the fire completely out at 12:45 p.m. Throughout the early heat of the fire, he said, the flames roared like more than 50 yards from the ship, but were blown away from rather than toward the vessel.

Carr said it appeared from the lighthouse that the lifebuoy which had started the fire was washed from the rail by heavy waves which at times swept over the vessel.

Captain Taken Off. The tanker's commander, a Captain Wolman, and 19 other men were taken on board the coast guard cutter Camanche shortly after 2:30 a.m. Four hours later, after 17 others left the vessel and were taken to Block Island coast guard station.

The 6,428-ton Lightburne, due in Providence today with 72,000 barrels of gasoline and kerosene, was piloted by Capt. Arthur Fox, who piloted this island's rocky shore at 7:30 last night.

Sixteen minutes later an SOS picked up by Radiomarine at Chatham, Mass., turned half a dozen vessels toward the tanker, among them the steamer Thomas Tracy and the coast guard patrol boat Active, from New London, Conn.

Nearly two hours elapsed before the Tracy churned its way to the tanker, the first rescue craft to arrive.

Meanwhile nearly half a dozen coast guard vessels were pounding their way to the scene the Cutters Campbell, regularly stationed at Block Island, and the Argosy from Newport, Chelan from Boston and the Central Greene from Woods Hole, Mass.

A 33-mile wind was whistling and a heavy swell running. The Lightburne's officers feared that the Active might not arrive in time were reflected in a message asking the Tracy to stand by.

Fogged Breaking Up. "May be unable to launch lifeboats in heavy seas, but will break up at any time," it said.

Forty-five minutes later the men began jumping over the side into a surfboat from Block Island station. Seventeen were carried to the Active, but the tanker's captain, master engineer, radio operator and others sent word they would stay "as long as possible."

At 12:37 a.m., a few minutes after the Lightburne radioed "we are going down, looks like our hands may leave her," officers sent a message received by Radiomarine saying they were "going off now."

Radiomarine interpreted the message to mean they had been taken off the ship, but later learned the Campbell had difficulty working up close to the lightburne and nearly two hours elapsed before all were safely removed.

All were taken to the Block Island station except four officers, including the Lightburne's captain, who decided to spend the night aboard the Campbell.

The Lightburne built in 1919 at Bath, Me., is owned by the Texas Company.

CURRENT COLLEGE BASKETBALL CAMPAIGNS FOLLOWING CLOSELY FINAL RESULTS OF LAST YEAR

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—The 1938 college basketball title chase is following much the same pattern in the major conferences and groups as it did in 1937.

The leaders and contenders are, in general, the same teams that were top a year ago. Most of the exceptions come in those conferences where anything may happen before the close races are decided. And that kind of races are the rule in such circuits as

NO CONVICTIONS
SECURED IN WPA CONSPIRACY CASE.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 10.—(AP)—A federal court jury today acquitted 14 of 25 persons charged with political manipulations of the New Mexico WPA and reported itself hopelessly deadlocked on the remaining eleven.

The jurors reported to Federal Judge Colin Neblett at 9 a. m. (CST) after actual deliberations of about 14 hours. They believed the case at 4:35 p. m. CST Wednesday.

Verdicts of acquittal were returned in the cases of Mrs. Anita Tafoya, sister of Senator Dennis Chavez—charged by the defense with being the object of "political persecution"—the Senator's nephew, Salomon Tafoya; Mrs. J. A. Werner and Mariano Werner, wife and brother of the Albuquerque postmaster, and two minor WPA leaders.

The jury reported itself unable to agree on the guilt or innocence of Stanley W. P. Miller, son-in-law of Senator Chavez, and assistant U. S. district attorney.

The defendants were accused of conspiring against the government to defraud and to illegally divert WPA labor and material for political purposes.

Those acquitted were: Mrs. Tafoya, Joe Barreras, Isaac Baca, Die Bayse, Mike Bucklin, Salomon Chavez, William Jenkins, Felix Martinez, Nell McNeerney, who helped Peraza, Delinda Romeo, Salomon Tafoya, Mrs. Werner and Mariano Werner.

Disagreements On Eleven. Disagreements were reported on Miller, Paul Black, Peter B. Coleman, Arthur J. Daniels, Joe De Armond, Fred Duran, Richard Durand, Leo Gonzalez, B. W. Means, Anstacio Romero and Joe Sandoval.

The conspiracy charges were returned by a federal grand jury last October 20 following more than a month's consideration of affidavits and taking of testimony.

Much of the material on which the grand jury based its indictments of a total of 75 persons, some of whom come up for trial later in February, was gathered and prepared by investigators of the investigation division of the WPA itself.

Highlights of the testimony in the 11-day trial were:

1. Mutual agreement by both government and defense witnesses that the case was motivated by the role that supervisory jobs in the WPA, such as foremen and timekeepers, are "political patronage."

2. That the political organization run by the accused conspirators, admittedly, in behalf of Senator Chavez, levied political tribute against WPA workers ranging from 50 cents a payday on 448 a month laborers to 10 per cent against supervisory workers.

3. The charge by the defense that the case was motivated by and had its inception in the political feud waged by Senator Chavez and former Governor Clyde Tingley, and that the aim of the prosecution was to smash Chavez politically.

4. That the conspiracy was organized by a federal grand jury last October 20 following more than a month's consideration of affidavits and taking of testimony.

FORGOTTEN STALKS MAY SOON BECOME LARGE MONEY CROPS

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS
BEAUMONT, Feb. 10.—(AP)—The sweet potato, okra plant, cotton stalk, and stump and pine tree, commonplace objects which farmers have regarded of low value for years, soon may rank with the best money producers, scientists said today at the opening of the Gulf Coast Farm Chemistry Conference.

From the sweet potato, chemurgists will extract the base for starch; from okra, the cotton stalk, the stump and tree they will make cellulose, the solid base for many durable manufactured goods and building materials, and from slash pine they will make paper.

Farmers, bankers, scientists and industrialists assembled here to discuss the future value of the farm products of Texas and heard Dr. E. P. Schoch, director of the Industrial Department of the University of Texas, warn that decentralization of manufacturing must come to the United States.

"Texas is a colony dependent upon the eastern seaboard today," Dr. Schoch said. "We must do something about it because we cannot forever go on selling our raw materials. We Texans must do as the Swiss herders, who, when confronted with stagnation in their markets, turned to watch-making."

Their products are not large nor do they require a lot of raw material, but in every Swiss watch there is a lot of Swiss craftsmanship and Swiss brain work. That is what we will have to do in Texas—find something and put a lot of brains in it."

Planning Starch Plant. Paul T. Sanderson, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, told the group of 300 that ground work was being laid in East Texas for construction of starch plant that will use the sweet potato as the base raw material.

In the Beaumont section, he said, chemurgic experiments are under way on the economic practicability of production of tung oil trees and perilla as a source of drying oils, and okra as a source of cellulose.

"Cotton stalks, cottonseed and cotton may be the tomorrow's principal source for cellulose," he predicted.

E. O. Siecker, director of the Texas Forest Service, said Texas with 35,000,000 acres of trees, had the largest forest growth of any state in the Union. There were 335,000,000 tons of wood fiber available to manufacturers in Texas forests, adding that common uses of wood prevalent utilized but 35 per cent of the total amount of wood at hand in this state.

The new paper mill at Lufkin, representing an investment of $6,000,000 and which will supply many southern newspapers with new pulp, was hailed by the conference as the most important advance project in chemurgy has given East Texas.

Information On YMCA Plans Sent
All Subscribers

Beauford H. Jester, president of the Y. M. C. A., has announced that the following letter has been sent to all campaign subscribers to the Y. M. C. A. modernization fund:

Dear Y. M. C. A. Subscriber: This message is of such importance that it should come to you personally typed letter. Since we have seven hundred and ninety to write, we know you will understand why this letter is mimeographed.

You are doubtless wondering "what has happened to the Y. M. C. A. campaign," and you have a right to know. The simple truth is that the campaign has been put on a special point. Space will not permit us to go into detail. We think it is sufficient to say that any "slip" in our program was chargeable to honest errors of judgment or simple differences of opinion as to the scope of improvements we should undertake. No one wants to see the program fail.

Working on the above theory, we have had several private conferences with certain key men who are in a position to help us bring this campaign to a happy conclusion. Some of the gentlemen made definite statements as to what they felt could be done and when they would act. Under the circumstances, we think good business judgment dictates that we hold everything in abeyance for another six weeks. We believe the results at that time will amply repay us for the additional delay.

Once the larger subscriptions are in hand, the amount is materially reduced from what you were led to believe would be added to the popular subscription. We shall then frankly lay the facts before you and give you an opportunity to make whatever adjustment you think is fair to the Y. M. C. A., the community and ourselves. We know you will keep a straight face when we only made a partial collection for last year's operating expenses, and that we agreed to forego the 1938 campaign entirely for our usual budget to cover overhead.

We know you will be pleased to learn that something definite is in prospect for the near future, and we take this means of again thanking you for the contribution you have made to our money, time and influence.

Sincerely yours,
THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS
OF THE Y. M. C. A.

Hearing Scheduled
For Repeal Special

A hearing is scheduled on the proposed legislation at Austin Thursday for the repeal of the special issue statute now in vogue in the courts of the country. The proposal was introduced by Doyle Pevehouse, florist and representative from Hill and Navarro counties. It was stated here Monday morning.

No. 11
Gross Income, Net Income, and Surplus Tax Income

Three of the terms used in the income tax law, namely, gross income, net income, and surplus tax income, should be noted particularly, inasmuch as they are vitally important to the whole subject of the income tax.

Gross income includes in general all income from an source whatever, unless exempt from tax by law. The gross income of the usual business consists of the gross profits on sales plus income from investments and incidental or outside operations or sources. The return must show the gross sales, purchases, and cost of goods sold.

Correct income correctly, inventories are necessary at the beginning and end of each taxable year. A lawyer, doctor, architect, physician, dentist, clergyman, author, or other professional person must include in gross income all fees, salaries, and compensation of any kind for professional services.

Net income upon which the tax is assessed is gross income less the deductions allowed by law. Such deductions include business and professional expenses, such as salaries, pensions, and bonuses to employees, taxes, losses, interest, and debts. Any deduction for depletion, contributions, etc. Failure to understand deductions against gross income and credits against net income has resulted in numerous errors on the part of taxpayers.

An earned-income credit is provided in addition to the personal exemption and credit for dependents, etc., for the purpose of computing the normal tax. Having first deducted the gross income, the next step is to deduct the personal exemption and credit for dependents. The balance represents the surtax net income. The next step is to deduct from the surtax net income credit and other credits to which the taxpayer is entitled. The remainder represents the amount of net income subject to the normal tax of 10 per cent. Any amount of surtax net income which is in excess of $4,000 is subject to the surtax. The surtax is to be computed in accordance with the rates provided for in the various so-called surtax brackets.

Deductions for Business Expenses

Deductions for business expenses form a large item in the return of many taxpayers and must have certain qualifications to be allowed. Such deduction must be for an expenditure in connection with the maintenance and operation of the taxpayer's business or business properties; it must be an ordinary expense and it must be a necessary expense. In insisting upon the latter qualifications, the Bureau of Internal Revenue is upheld by the Board of Tax Appeals and the courts. Ordinary and necessary expenses are only those which are usual and essential in the case of similar taxpayers, and do not include extraordinary and nonessential expenses.

Typical business expenses of a mercantile establishment are amounts paid for advertising, hire of clerks and other employees, rent, light, heat, water, stationery, stamps, telephone, property insurance and delivery expenses. The expenses of a manufacturer include labor, power, repairs, light and heat, power, selling, advertising, transportation, and other similar charges.

The farmer may deduct all necessary expenses incurred in the production, harvesting, and marketing of crops, including labor, cost of seed and fertilizer used, cost of young stock raised on the farm, cost of other similar charges, and buildings (other than his dwelling), and small tools used up in the course of a year or two. A taxpayer may conduct more than one business and claim the business deductions of each.

MORE SAFETY RECORDS

The safety record of the country for 1938 was most encouraging. Traffic deaths dropped 19 per cent, and 7,640 more persons were alive at the end of the year than would have been if the 1937 highway death rate had continued. Cleveland won the title of "safest big city in America" by cutting fatalities down 49 per cent. Detroit and St. Louis reduced theirs by 41 and 40 per cent. Other fine records were made.

Meanwhile there are smaller communities that seem to have the habit of getting along entirely without traffic deaths. According to the latest monthly report of its police chief, Alliance, O., a city of more than 25,000 population, has now finished 17 consecutive months without a single traffic fatality. It is determined to stretch that record out indefinitely.

None of it means that the traffic safety battle is won, but it surely suggests that victory is possible. Critics of the safety work now being carried on say that it can never be really effective until would-be drivers are more carefully examined before they are granted licenses, so that no irresponsible person is allowed to operate a car.

WARPLANES

If the United States government were making and selling warplanes to France, that would be obviously improper and dangerous and should be stopped. It would tend to drag us into war.

When private industry is making and selling warplanes to France or any other friendly country that will not use them against our people or our national interests, it is hard to see that such action is improper or unwise. There is no law against it, national or international. And Americans who approve such action have two things to say in favor of it:

First, that it develops the American airplane industry, in a perilous time, to a point where it can soon supply our own government with all the modern military aircraft we may need.

Second, that it helps in a legitimate way to put free, friendly nations on a footing where they can protect themselves against possible aggression, and thus indirectly protect us.

Such private manufacture of war equipment for the foreign market would not be carried on, of course, without government permission. There has to be discretion used there. Obviously we do not want our government to sanction the private sale of war equipment to a nation that uses it against our national interests. For this reason our government stopped sanctioning the sale of warplanes to Japan, but continued sanctioning the sale of such equipment to China. Most Americans believe today that it is to our interest to have France able to defend itself in the air.

WAR DANGERS

Nearly half the people in this country, a national poll shows, believe there will be a war between important European countries this year.

It is of greater interest to learn that more than half of our people believe our own country will be drawn into such a war if it comes. And nearly all of our people are convinced that, if such war develops, the re-

DREAM
The place seemed strange and yet the people seemed
So lifelike that I could not think
I dreamed.
Old friends of mine came running
up to me,
The dead, the living, natural as could be,
But still no man among them
turned to say:
"What did the big industrial do today?"

Not one as I approached the open gate
Called me aside to ask the silver rate.
Not one of all that happy-hearted crowd Whispered the question: "What did motors do?"
No anxious voice beseeched me
there to tell
If it were wise to buy or time to sell.

Not one among the number cared to seek
News of the market, was it strong or weak?
No one came running, breathless, to inquire
What happened at the close to Rubber Tire?
Which put this obvious notion in my head:
"Old boy, you're either dreaming or you're dead!"

HUMAN DIGNITY.

Everybody talks about democracy nowadays, in America and the other free countries, but people have trouble in deciding just what it is. Democracy is so intangible and many-sided that there might be a hundred definitions. It is a pattern of life, a form of government, a way of thinking, and so on, according to what you happen to be emphasizing at the moment.

A notable definition perhaps as good as any yet given, is that of Thomas Mann, exiled German author, who says:

"We must define democracy as that form of government and of society which is inspired above every other with the feeling and consciousness of the dignity of man."

That view immediately starts any thoughtful person to asking how much dignity man, individually or collectively, has in America, in England, in Scandinavia, in France—and in Russia or Germany or Italy or Japan.

HELPING CHILE

The United States ambassador at Santiago, Chile, went at once to the foreign office to ask how this country could help relieve the suffering caused by the earthquake. He was told that medical supplies and condensed milk were urgent needs of the region. That same day two U. S. army planes took off from the Canal Zone carrying serum for earthquake victims. Other planes, other supplies and other kinds of aid followed.

We go into action quickly in such emergencies. The American Red Cross is trained and equipped to give prompt service. The U. S. government offers aid and lends personnel or equipment when needed. The people of the United States respond generously to appeals for relief funds.

None of this, today, is done for the purpose of impressing stricken Chile or any other Latin-American country with either our resources or our kindness. It is purely and simply recognition of a terrible need.

We go at once to offer such help and comfort as one neighbor may give another.

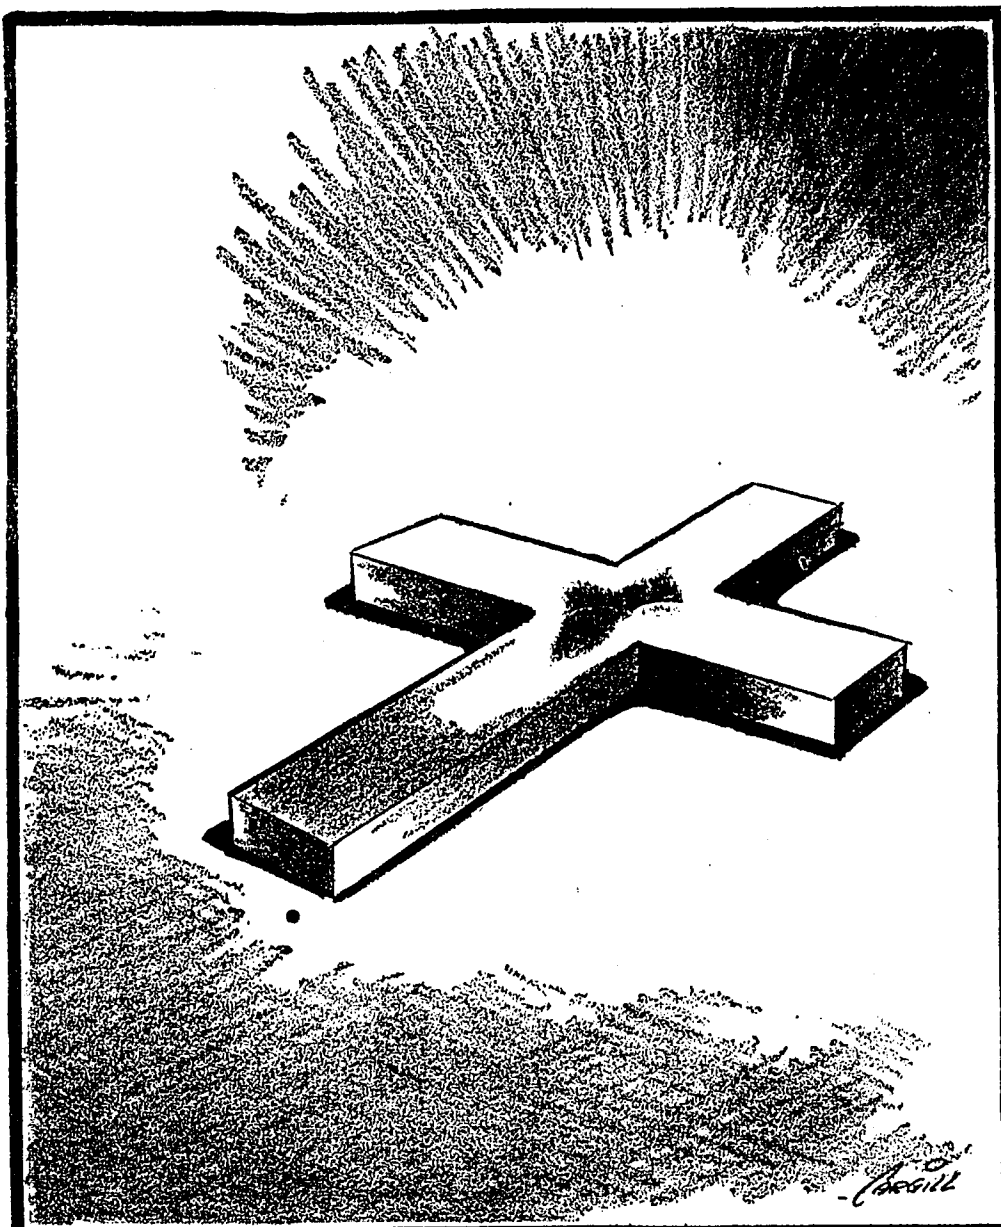

Yet there are lessons in this situation which we ourselves should not overlook and which we hope other governments and peoples will not miss. Airplanes over a country can be wings of mercy and good will. Also, our friendly feeling toward our neighbors in genuine and lasting, not assumed for temporary or selfish purposes.

sponsibility will rest upon Germany and Italy, especially the former.

It goes without saying that we do not want war, for ourselves or for other nations. What then shall we do to prevent war abroad, and by doing so to avoid it ourselves.

Most of us, perhaps, will say by continuing what we are now doing—by preparing our own defenses, putting our own house in order, making our own democracy a light to the world, and giving our moral support to the threatened foreign democracies.

"ALL ROADS LEAD TO ROME!"

STATESMANSHIP UPSIDE DOWN

A "Statesmen's Guide," attributed to the late Karel Capek, Czechoslovakian playwright and journalist, affords bitter criticism of statesmen's actions in this modern world.

"Treaties," the guide explains, "are made to be kept by the weaker nations."

"The efforts of statesmen have succeeded in completely maintaining collective insecurity."

"In the interest of peace, energetic measures against the victims of aggression must be taken."

"Localizing a conflict: leaving the victim to his fate."

"Liquidating a conflict: amputating his legs in addition."

"No sacrifice made by others is too much for the cause of peace."

"There are many folk who like to warm their soup over a conflagration."

"The Czechs have not been sold out—just given away for nothing."

Statesmen are not alone to blame for such methods. They have acted in this way because thereby they seem to achieve what their people wanted. When the peoples of the western world make it plain they want real security against war, honest dealing between governments, help for the weak and no more than justice for the strong, the statesmen will begin to follow a different set of rules.

LIFE IN JAPAN

The war isn't any fun in Japan, either. An American newspaper man in Tokyo tells of these changes.

The Japanese girls are not allowed to wear bright kimonos of American material any more; they must wear grey and black.

There is no dancing at hotels.

Permanent waves and cosmetics are banned, also foreign food and liquors.

"Staple fiber," a manufactured material, replaces cotton and wool. Bamboo utensils are substituted for copper and iron kettles. Iron doorknobs are stolen at night, also manhole covers.

Long funeral processions carry the ashes of dead soldiers through the streets. Nearly every family has relatives killed in the present war. The people wouldn't mind fighting Russians, but resent having to fight Chinese coolies. The war is especially unpopular among university students.

No movies are to be seen except old ones. Baseball is frowned on and jazz is forbidden. The government in-

HOSPITAL SERVICE GAINS

While the debate about "socialized medicine" continues to trouble part of the public, another part goes swiftly ahead with co-operative, non-profit medical service programs. According to the American Hospital Association there are now 53 such groups in the country with nearly 3,000,000 members. In New York City the hospital service plan doubled its enrollment during 1938. Fifteen cities and one state which had not done so before inaugurated the system last year.

The hospital service plan is simply an insurance plan, whereby a lot of people, pooling small fees regularly, may receive a specified amount of hospital or medical care when emergency arises. It also pays the doctors for work which either would not have to come to them at all or would have been poorly paid if it came.

So long as patients may choose their doctors and hospitals follow recognized ethical practices, the system promises more and better medical care and greater reward for doctors without the dire effect feared in some quarters.

With somewhat mixed feeling Americans read of the new Nazi wedding rules.

Every ceremony must be performed in front of a bust or portrait of the Fuehrer. The room must be adorned with the Swastika flag, the Reich seal, and flowers, and the presiding official must wear a brown robe trimmed with velvet.

The bride and groom must receive a copy of Hitler's "Mein Kampf," a pamphlet of advice to mothers and a year's subscription to a Nazi newspaper.

The dominant item in this matrimonial scene is the presence, by proxy, of Adolf Hitler, the celibate.

sists on a "spiritual renovation," and the people resent it.

Business men are almost unanimously opposed to the war, because it interferes with business.

This is the age of "plastics." Nearly everything's going to be plastic except prices.

Now what would we do if Hitler laid a few million dollars "on the barrel head" for American war planes or pretzels or radios?

City Federation of Kerens Clubs Held Quarterly Luncheon

KERENS, Feb. 9.—(Sp.)—The Kerens City Federation held their quarterly luncheon at Childers Cafe Wednesday, with 100 per cent attendance. This Federation, composed of the president and one member from each of the Kerens Pioneer Club, the Kerens Music Club, the Kerens Soccer and the Kerens Garden Club, was organized a few months ago, and has already obtained some worthwhile results.

The luncheon was typically Mexican in all details, both as to food and decoration.

Mrs. E. H. Gray, president, presided, and during the business session, appointed a committee of the president of each club to take charge of plans for the General Federated lunch to be given some time in March.

It was decided that the finance committee sponsor an entertainment in the near future for the purpose of raising funds for the Federation treasury.

Those present as representatives from their organizations were: Mrs. E. H. Gray, Mrs. Jack Anderson, Mrs. Charles Reese, Mrs. G. H. Sanders, Mrs. J. C. Blair, Mrs. C. W. White, Mrs. Grant Westbrook, Mrs. E. H. Norton, Mrs. A. H. Carroll, Mrs. Charles Cherry, Mrs. Horace Newsome and Mrs. G. H. Wilemon.

Kerens Junior Pioneer Club, KERENS, Feb. 9.—(Sp.)—At the home of Mrs. A. S. Prichard, the Kerens Junior Pioneer club enjoyed a very interesting and entertaining meeting on Wednesday at 3 p. m. Miss Annae Speed was hostess, and the Kerens Garden Club furnished the program.

Spring violets lent their beauty and fragrance to the occasion, having been massed in huge clusters about the living and dining rooms. After a short business session, Mrs. E. H. Norton of the Garden Club took charge as leader.

Mrs. Albert Berry had as her subject "Rock Gardens," which she presented in a very informative way.

Mrs. C. W. White concluded the program with a number of poems. Ten Junior Pioneer members were present, as were four sponsors from the Senior Pioneer Club, Mrs. Jack Pite, Mrs. E. H. Gray, Mrs. Wade Price, Mrs. A. S. Prichard and Mrs. G. H. Wilemon.

The refreshment plate featured the Valentine motif, both in its contents and decoration.

NO MORE SECRECY ON CLOSED SESSIONS MILITARY COMMITTEE

ONLY MILITARY SECRETS TO BE BARRED FROM THE GENERAL PUBLIC

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(AP)—The senate military committee agreed today to permit members to make public all information they obtain in future closed sessions, except military secrets.

It voted today, however, a motion to hold open hearings on the administration's current defense program and defeated by an 8 to 5 vote, a motion by Senator Austin (R-Vt.) to hold open hearings on future bills.

It postponed until Monday action on a motion by Senator Clark (D-Mo) to make public the record of its investigation of the proposed sale of the latest type of military planes to France.

Senator Austin said he interpreted today's action to mean committee members would be free to discuss with newspaper men all that had taken place in the committee room in closed sessions except matters involving military secrets.

Both house and senate were in recess today, but committees were busy.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance company assured the federal monopoly committee through counsel that in future elections directors, company agents would not sign the names of policyholders to ballots.

Attorneys General of 39 states opposing a proposal for reciprocal taxation of government securities, federal state and local told a senate subcommittee congress had no constitutional power to tax state and municipal bonds.

Would Increase Consumer Cost. Secretary Wallace said a price-fixing farm bill pending before the senate agricultural committee might increase consumer costs $1,000,000,000 a year.

In hearings on proposed substitutes for the social security system, Representative Brewster (R-Me) asserted "everybody with a job and salary now would sacrifice to some extent" if the Townsend old age pension plan went into effect.

He said those with regular incomes would be glad to make sacrifices, for the benefit of the unemployed.

President Roosevelt stayed in bed today, suffering with a slight case of grippe. His temperature was reported to be one degree above normal.

In connection with the question of publicity on military committee meetings, Secretary Morgenthau said he had suggested that the committee withhold parts of its testimony on the sale of American planes to France, but declared these portions would not conceal the treasury's part in the deal.

What He Wanted Back. he said, were incidental remarks, suppression of which would not hide any part of the true story of the plane transaction.

There appeared to be strong sentiment among committee members for making public the evidence of various officials, providing military secrets were omitted.

The committee's inquiry has resulted in a senatorial controversy over foreign policy, including the advisability of letting France and Great Britain buy latest model warplanes from American manufacturers.

Republican house members gave their approval to most of the administration's defense program, virtually assuring its passage by the house next week.

The republicans balked at extending defense lines in the Pacific as far west as the Island of Guam, where the navy proposes to spend $5,000,000 for patrol plane landing facilities.

They protested, too, the proposal to build the army air corps up to 5,500 planes in two years and suggested the increase be spread over three or four years to minimize obsolescence.

Trade Conference Opens WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Conferences between Foreign Minister Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil and Undersecretary of State Welles opened today in an effort to reach important accords on trade, finance and defense.

Will Not Oppose Quill WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Representative Kilday (D-Texas) said today he would not oppose reappointment of Dan J. Quill as postmaster at San Antonio.

Quill originally was appointed acting postmaster on the recommendation of Representative Kleberg (D-Texas) whose district at the time included San Antonio. He later was given the regular appointment with the support of Maury Maverick, defeated by Kilday.

"Postmaster Quill's record has been one of efficiency," said Kilday.

LEGISLATURE ONLY POWER TO SUSPEND TRUCK LOAD LIMIT

ATTORNEY GENERAL GERALD MANN GIVES RULING ON DISPUTED QUESTION

AUSTIN, Feb. 10.—(AP)—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann said today the legislature could suspend the 7,000-pound truck limit law, but it must be accomplished through passage of a bill authorizing suspension.

His opinion was at the request of Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, who sought the proper method of procedure.

Kelly and Rep. Leonard of McAllen are sponsors of legislation to raise the load limit for trucks, and had sought unsuccessfully immediate action by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel to relieve what they have termed a serious situation.

Mann's opinion said: "The legislature alone has the power to suspend existing laws in this state. The power to suspend includes the power to suspend in whole or in part and for such period of time as the legislature may determine."

"However, the suspension should have the effect of a general law, that is, the suspension should apply to fruits and vegetables of a perishable nature wherever they may be produced in the state of Texas."

The opinion added the suspension must be accomplished by bill rather than by resolution or any other method of procedure resorted to in the legislature.

At the request of Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, Attorney General Gerald C. Mann yesterday wrote an opinion which said the legislature and then body only, was empowered to suspend operation of the statute.

The governor had been asked to invoke martial law and suspend the law by Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald, Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg and other interested parties.

Pending in a senate committee and awaiting a second hearing Tuesday night was a bill by Senator Kelly which would abolish the law and substitute a pressure-on-the-roadbed formula permitting an overall weight for trucks and loads up to 45,000 pounds and another which would set the limit at 20,000 pounds.

HEAD OF CATHOLIC CHURCH OF WORLD DIED EARLY FRIDAY

POPE PIUS XI PASSED AWAY QUIETLY; NEARING HIS 82ND BIRTHDAY

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
VATICAN CITY, Feb. 10.

(P)—Pope Pius XI, "The Pope of Peace," 21st head of the Church of Rome, died today at dawn just five days after the 17th anniversary of his reign.

His frail body, wasted by illness and with features shrunken, was borne in the procession to the red-draped 15th century Sistine chapel, where the new pontiff will be elected, to lie in state for the home of dignitaries.

Tomorrow the body will be taken to St. Peter's Cathedral where the first of nine funeral services will be held Sunday. Burial will be Feb. 15 in St. Peter's.

The death of the pontiff, nearly 82, marked an interregnum in the administration of the church which Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli will fill as "chamberlain of the Holy See" until a new pope is elected.

The conclave of cardinals may convene Feb. 25, though it can be called as late as Feb. 28, to choose the successor to Pius XI. Three United States cardinals were expected to leave New York tomorrow to attend the assembly for the first time as a group.

The new pope will be elected by a two-thirds majority of the 62 cardinals who attend the conclave.

The time of his coronation will depend on how quickly the balloting is ended.

From the dead pope's hand Cardinal Pacelli took the fisherman's ring, symbol of papal authority, 19th seal, in a ceremony which he gave to the new pope as a sign of his selection.

Dies Just Before Angelus.

Pope Pius XI died just before the 11th anniversary of his coronation, morning Angelus.

Approaching his 82nd birthday anniversary on May 31, he had been ill since Tuesday of cardiac asthma which caused death, although he had been gradually improving in general health since a severe illness in December, 1936, and another attack, November 25, last year.

Dr. Annita Milani, called from a sick bed, nodded that the end had come at 5:31 a. m. for the "pope of peace," on the fifth day of the 18th year since his election as head of the Catholic Church.

During the administration of the last rites witnesses said they saw the pope's lips move.

Some close to him thought they heard him say "I am ready."

"Our last rites, like those of all mortals, Sister Theresa of the Infant Jesus, art near to us. God is merciful. May His will be done."

Saint Theresa whom Pius had canonized was the saint to whom he had entrusted his health.

Death came while the holy father was preparing to embark upon a new task, an extraordinary address tomorrow to all Italian bishops on the tenth anniversary of the Lateran accord with Italy—by which he became the first pope in 50 years to emerge from the Vatican walls.

He had been expected to deal with the status of the concordat.

Bell Starts Tolling.

The bells were given officially to all Rome by the deep-throated "campanone," 11-ton master of the great bell tower on St. Peter's which started tolling its requiem at 6:35 a. m. The toll sounded for 30 minutes.

At the order of Cardinal Selva, the pope's vicar in the Rome diocese, proclamations of death were nailed to the doors of the city's churches.

His last years were saddened by war between the peoples he loved in Spain, by troubles between the church and state in Germany, and by the racial measures of the Fascist government.

Death was believed hastened by his determination to celebrate fittingly two proud anniversaries of his reign—that of the Lateran treaty signed June 29, 1929, and his coronation on Sunday.

Oxygen had been administered last evening after a severe attack during which the pontiff lapsed from consciousness for 30 minutes, but at midnight he was said to be resting easily.

A change was noticed soon after 4 a. m.

Dr. Filippo Rocchi, who had attended since Tuesday in the absence of Dr. Milani, noted a pulse could hardly be felt and notified the papal secretary of state Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, the end was near.

Monsignor De Romanis, the pontiff's secretary, administered extreme unction as Cardinals, Dr. Milani, and other functionaries were summoned hastily.

The doctor, Monsignor De Romanis, Cardinal Pacelli, nurses and a few other dignitaries knelt by the bedside.

Archbishop Luigi Bonanome, famous urologist, had been summoned last night about 9 p. m.

Shortly afterward, sources close to the pope said, the pope paled and suffered an attack of asthma.

Realizing that the end was near, they thought the pontiff finally realized the end was near, following an attack of asthma which occurred about midnight.

After that, they said, he appeared resigned to death.

The Vatican newspaper, Osservatore Romano, said the holy father "appreciated the gravity of his condition and evidently was desirous to receive the sacred sacrament."

At 5 a. m. as the pope's condition became steadily more alarming, oxygen was administered for a second time.

As the oxygen mask was applied to the pontiff's face, Monsignor De Romanis began reciting prayers while those gathered around the bed knelt.

Observatore Romano said the pope attempted to join the ritual with gestures of the head and hands.

At 5:20, the narrative continued, "the rasping became even more fatiguing and Professor Milani announced to the grave consternation of those present that the end must be considered imminent."

ent. The Pious passing occurred in fact, from Malindi.

At 5:30 Monsignor De Romanis approached the great pontiff and asked him to repeat with him the admirable Christian prayer, "Jesus, Joseph and Mary, may your souls ascend with you."

"Calmly," said the paper, "with a serenity which reflected the purity of a life devoted entirely to God, his holiness, turning his head toward the right yielded up his fine soul to God."

After Dr. Milani pronounced the Pope dead, Cardinals Pacelli and Ciccia Dominioni kissed the pontiff's hand.

Start Traditional Ceremony.

In the traditional ceremony of the church, Cardinal Pacelli, as interim ruler, made the official pronouncement of death of the pontiff.

As if the pope still lived, Cardinal Pacelli approached the death bed and drew back the white veil that covered the death.

Flickers of light from dozens of candles fell upon the aged countenance.

"Achille" called the thin, ascetic cardinal who or many years had worked closely with his temporal ruler.

The call echoed through the small, plain bedroom.

No answer.

"Is your dead," said the cardinal, "is your dead."

In quivering voices those in the room began the "de profundis," chant for the dead: "Out of the depths, O Lord, do I cry unto thee."

Cardinal Francesco Marchetti-Selvagiani, the pope's vicar for the Rome diocese, began to say mass in the pope's private chapel.

Cardinal Pacelli and the other cardinals removed their violet mantelletas, their distinguishing mark of rank, since they now were no longer than cardinals—each with a chance to become the next pontiff.

Cardinal Pacelli went soon to his offices to start notifying the diplomatic corps of the holy see.

Representatives of the Holy See, including Archbishop Cicerone in Washington, and the American cardinals—O'Connell of Boston, Dougherty of Philadelphia, and McGuire of New York.

He sent formal notification to King Vittorio Emanuele of Italy, Premier Mussolini and the heads of other states.

The cardinals were expected to meet in the afternoon at the Vatican to fix the date for election of a new pope for Feb. 28, since 18 days is the longest delay allowed for the assembly.

Pope Pius XI had the longest reign of any pope since Leo XIII died in 1903. His tenure was more than twice that of his predecessor, Benedict XV.

Elect on Feb. 6, 1922, he died the first day of the 18th year of his stewardship.

Funeral Probably Wednesday.

The funeral will be in St. Peter's probably the afternoon of Feb. 15, the burial, in the pope's wish, in the crypts of St. Peter's near the tombs of his two immediate predecessors—Pius X and Benedict XV—but a few yards from the tomb of St. Peter.

Requiem Mass lasting nine days start Sunday.

Arrangements were made for Sculptor Aurelio Mistruzzi to make a work of the pontiff and then for the body to be embalmed, dressed and removed to the Sistine chapel for viewing by church and civil dignitaries.

Earlier plans to set up the bier in the throne room were abandoned.

The public will be permitted to pay homage later when the body is placed in St. Peter's in the choir of the chapel with the feet projecting through iron gates to enable the faithful to kiss his slippers.

The great square before St. Peter was thronged as the pope's body was carried to the choir of the chapel.

Swiss guards stood in door ways leaning on their halberds.

Three automobiles swept into the passageway that leads around St. Peter's to the Papal apartments.

The guards paid little attention, other than to make sure the occupants had authority to enter.

Other persons summoned to the death bed were within Vatican City and went to the Vatican on foot.

The Swiss guards in the square were the first to receive the news from an Associated Press correspondent.

When the Cardinals left the death room, a group of Vatican priests, known as the Vatican Penitentiaries took charge of the body.

Directed by Dr. Milani, the penitentiaries washed the body with the water of the Jordan and it was embalmed, then dressed in the pontiff's usual robes—a white cassock, sash with golden tassels, surplice, bishop's gown and red papal cap and stole.

Biographical Sketch

Pope and His Career

As "pope of the conciliation," who ended the 59-year-old "Roman question" and regained temporal power for the Vatican; as "pope of peace," adding 30 names to the list of canonized, and as "fighting head of the church," denouncing religious persecution, godlessness and "exaggerated nationalism."

Elect head of the Roman Catholic church on February 6, 1922, who became seven years later, the first pope after Pius IX to reign temporarily as well as spiritually, the first pontiff in 50 years to greet personally the king of Italy.

The first head of the church since 1870 to leave the limits of the Vatican.

This last step, ending the "prison of the Vatican" habits of his predecessors, was a landmark in the history of the church.

When the "godless" campaign spread through the Soviet Union, he made overtures for closer relations with the Russian Orthodox and other eastern churches and manifested interest in all movements for Christian unity.

But his chief aim was to make it plain that if this unity it could be consummated only by a return of all other sects to the Catholic faith.

His first encyclical, "Quadragesimo Anno," issued in October, 1931, declared that restoration of the status which existed up to the time of the Lutheran reformation and the cessation of the papal communion from the jurisdiction of Rome, was the only basis he could consider for church unity.

Parish School Training Favored.

He emphasized his adherence to the tenet of church education of children when he issued an encyclical "On the Christian Education of Youth" by putting out the document in modern Latin.

His message had been couched in other than the traditional Latin. Its condemnation of co-education caused considerable discussion in the United States, as did his message that the Roman Catholic children should attend none but parochial schools.

Pius was zealous for missionary work in all fields and strengthened the Congress of the American Association of the Faith. He also revived the biennial World Eucharistic Congress, which had languished through the World War years.

Starting in 1922 at Rome, these congresses were organized for Amsterdam (1924), Chicago (1926), Sydney (1928), Carthage (1930), Buenos Aires (1934), Manila (1936), Budapest (1938) and Philadelphia (1940). Pius had each successive gathering as an enormous influence in perpetuating reverence and church loyalty.

Fame as the "saint maker" came to Pius in the latter years of his tenure. A dozen of the 30 names he added to the venerable list were canonized within the "holy year" 1933-34, especially by his pontificate.

Among these new saints were Don Giovanni Bosco, Italian monk, whose education work is revered; Thomas More, chancellor to Henry VIII of England, who resisted to martyrdom the divorce of the Church of England from the jurisdiction of Rome; and Sister Theresa of the Little Flower of Jesus.

Causes were initiated later for the possible elevation of several Americans and the first of these, the late Cardinal Xaviera, founder of the Missionaries of the Sacred Heart, was formally beatified in St. Peter's on November 13, 1938 with Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago.

His canonization was the 1800th anniversary of the passion, death and resurrection of Christ.

the Holy See acknowledged the House of Savoy as the ruling family of the Italian nation.

But his chief aim was to make it plain that if this unity it could be consummated only by a return of all other sects to the Catholic faith.

His first encyclical, "Quadragesimo Anno," issued in October, 1931, declared that restoration of the status which existed up to the time of the Lutheran reformation and the cessation of the papal communion from the jurisdiction of Rome, was the only basis he could consider for church unity.

Parish School Training Favored.

He emphasized his adherence to the tenet of church education of children when he issued an encyclical "On the Christian Education of Youth" by putting out the document in modern Latin.

His message had been couched in other than the traditional Latin. Its condemnation of co-education caused considerable discussion in the United States, as did his message that the Roman Catholic children should attend none but parochial schools.

Pius was zealous for missionary work in all fields and strengthened the Congress of the American Association of the Faith. He also revived the biennial World Eucharistic Congress, which had languished through the World War years.

Starting in 1922 at Rome, these congresses were organized for Amsterdam (1924), Chicago (1926), Sydney (1928), Carthage (1930), Buenos Aires (1934), Manila (1936), Budapest (1938) and Philadelphia (1940). Pius had each successive gathering as an enormous influence in perpetuating reverence and church loyalty.

Fame as the "saint maker" came to Pius in the latter years of his tenure. A dozen of the 30 names he added to the venerable list were canonized within the "holy year" 1933-34, especially by his pontificate.

BABIES—FAT AND ROSY

Everybody loves a rosy, fat baby. And every baby should be rosy and fat! Prenatal care is responsible, in a large measure, for the health of the young baby; and the early care and feeding of a baby determines whether or not it will be easily affected by children's disease.

A new human being

The expectant mother should realize that she not only must watch her diet for her own future health and beauty, but that the food she eats is being utilized by Nature in the formation and growth of the embryo child. Her responsibility, therefore, is to her child as well as herself.

Calcium is a vitally important mineral in this instance. The average adult needs ten grains of calcium a day, and a child about 20 grains a day; so you see how much calcium foods must be taken by the expectant mother to supply her needs. Without a sufficient supply being constantly maintained, Nature, in her urgency to produce a perfect baby, will take the requirements from the mother herself, and of course, if the mother is left deficient in calcium her teeth, nails, hair, bones and her health will be affected.

Much has been said about this subject, and still women will continue to overlook the principles of nutrition at this time, and again during the nursing period.

If the baby is bottle-fed, however, the mother need think only of keeping up her own health through correct eating; and then watching the baby's food intake to make certain that all the building essentials are included. Certified whole milk is of course the best substitute for Mother's milk, and in the unusual cases where this does not agree, goat's milk can be used to splendid advantage. A quart of milk a day is sufficient.

The addition of orange juice and tomato juice may be made very early in the baby's diet; and increased in quantity during the following weeks until the baby is taking one glassful each day. Small amounts of spinach, and egg yolks can be added after the fourth month. I believe it is wiser to withhold the starchy foods until the end of the first year, although baked potato, washed dates and bananas can be used for the carbohydrate requirements. In addition to these foods, Cottage Cheese, radishes, raw cabbage, coconut, lemon juice and endive, as well as other greens.

AMERICA'S RED CROSS FIRST AID CLASSES BE OPENED KERENS

KERENS, Feb. 13.—(Spl.)—With the opening of the classes in American Red Cross first aid service Tuesday night, Kerens is again taking the lead in a most worthy project, being the first city in Navarro county to begin these classes. To be held in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening at 7:30, Dr. E. H. Sanders has been named instructor and authorized to conduct classes in junior, standard and advanced first aid.

Supplies, textbooks and materials have already been received. Classes are being arranged by R. P. Walker, safety traffic director for Kerens, and vice chairman of the Navarro County Safety Council. Since Kerens is the first city to organize for active service, it is predicted by those in charge of county work that Kerens will also be the first city in the county to qualify for a first aid station. This Red Cross service school is but another step in the safety program of Navarro county which has been sponsored by Director Walker during the past two years. His efforts have been rewarded with outstanding success and state wide attention has been attracted to Kerens and Navarro county.

When he was spoken to, it was reported that he had been in the room and made his escape at the back door and screen, running away through a neighbor's yard. The rear porch screen latches had been picked investigators Monday morning revealed.

It is believed the burglar was a white man.

chapel of the sacrament Sunday. Flames of 24 tall candles lighted the bier.

The funeral couch was of red velvet. The body was dressed in rich red soutane with the lacy edge of a white robe showing beneath. The casket was draped and a cloth of gold mitre was the head dress.

Tomorrow at 4 p. m., the body of the pontiff will be taken from the open bier, placed in a triple coffin and entombed in a crypt of the great basilica where Pius will lie among scores of past popes, kings and prelates.

At the feet of the pontiff will be placed a brass tube containing a script of the eulogy recited at the burial ceremony and medals in gold, silver and bronze coined during his pontificate.

High Personages Be Present
Cardinals, bishops, the papal household and diplomats will be present at the ceremony.

Amid the elaborate manifestations of sorrow, the college of cardinals met.

Cardinal Lienart arrived from France and Michael Cardinal Von Faulhaber from Germany Sunday. Most of the Italian cardinals were here, and others, including the American prelates, were en route.

Upon the arrival of the Americans depended start of the election conclave which Vatican prelates said would be not earlier than Feb. 26 or later than March 1.

Speculation increased on the choice of a successor and some diplomats thought there existed possibility of a long conclave. Italian has been most prominently mentioned but should a deadlock develop among them, church informants said a compromise might result—election of one of the older cardinals more isolated than his younger colleagues from present world events.

Should a deadlock lead to a similar choice this time, it was possible the cardinals might choose the dean of their college, 87-year-old Genaro Cardinal Pignatelli Di Belmonte who was considered for the papacy after the death of Pius X and Benedict XV.

The court also declined to review conviction of four persons charged with plotting the law against the picketing of German and Austrian embassies and legations in Washington a year ago.

The tribunal adjourned for two weeks after hearing attorneys for Joseph G. Strecker of Hot Springs, Ark., argue that membership in the communist party of the United States was not adequate grounds for deportation of an alien.

Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson contended Friday for the government that an alien who joined the communist party should be deported because he bound himself to program called for forcible overthrow of the government.

The movie decision also applied to Texas Consolidated Theaters, Inc. and to Karl Hoblitzelle and R. O'Daniel, both of Dallas. The former is president of both Interstate Circuit and Texas Consolidated and the latter is general manager. The district court said Texas Consolidated had not entered into any of the agreements since 1934-35.

EFFORT HAVE WHOLE LEGISLATURE HEAR ARGUMENTS FUTILE

LOCAL OPTION ON BETTING FAILS SECURE NECESSARY AMOUNT OF VOTES

AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—(P)—A move to have the whole house of representatives attend a hearing on a bill to legalize betting on horse races by local option failed in that body today.

A vote of 73 to 67 fell short of the required two-thirds majority to order the measure suggested by Rep. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene, author of the measure which abolished parimutuel wagering in Texas two years ago.

Bradbury asked the house to hear the local option horse race betting bill tomorrow night "in order to save time." The bill is slated for a hearing by the state affairs committee at that time.

This bill is going to be a stumbling block to other matters such as old age pensions and taxation," Bradbury contended. "If the entire house could hear it at once it would be heard by a committee and then take action in the house, it would save a lot of time and argument."

Let's get it out of the way instead of making a trading block between the houses."

Rep. Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill asked Bradbury to substitute a house hearing on pension bills, as he said "I don't know of anybody but who is stumbling over that bill."

"I'll go with you on pensions if you help me get this gambling bill disposed of," Bradbury retorted.

O'DANIEL
O'Daniel applied the labels "preposterous" and "untrue" to statements the transactions levy is a pyramid levy tax, a sales tax, an impost on poor people exclusively or will keep industries out of Texas.

He said he would wait a little while about sawing off the limb supporting enemies of his plan in order to see "how many more hirelings of the special interests want to identify themselves by getting out on the same limb with the rest of the bunch."

The legislators were puzzled by the following paragraph of the speech: "They enemies of O'Daniel's program" have made some charges about the transactions tax and in so doing have placed themselves in the position of admitting that the most severe indictments against the commercial interests of this state that could be imagined—an indictment that the producers and consumers should resent and demand immediate change in our whole commercial structure."

O'Daniel said he would explain it "at the proper time."

COMMISSIONERS
der certain conditions of financial assistance from the commissioners court. County Judge Paul H. Miller will write officials to outline the requirements for state and local bond issues.

It was stated that several counties in this section had enlisted the services of the government trappers.

County Farm Superintendent, County Judge Miller was authorized to enter contract with L. A. Gideon as superintendent of the county farm for the ensuing year after his bond in the sum of $2,000 had been approved. The salary is $65 per month.

The renewal of a lease contract with R. B. George Machinery company for certain road equipment used in Precinct 4 was authorized. Bids from a number of machinery concerns for road maintainers were opened and tabulated. Commissioner C. M. Fitzgerald of Precinct 2 purchased an Allis-Chalmers maintenance from the Benson Shaw Company, Dallas, for $1401.

Other bidders included Highway Machinery Company, Dallas; R. B. George Machinery Company, Dallas, and J. D. Adams Company, Dallas.

Mrs. Brown of Waco appeared before the court with reference to furnishing another road on her property in the Powell community. She offered the use of a levee as a road to relieve a section now used that was reported to be too low for road purposes. The construction of a bridge will be necessary for the new site. Commissioner Fitzgerald will handle the matter.

PENSIONS

ing so detailed, officials said today, the inquiry may last another month.

Proponents of both the Townsend and the general welfare pension bills claim enough strength in the committee to force their measure to the house floor when testimony finally is completed.

The administration, on the other hand, is advocating instead extension of the social security program. Supporters of that system are being heard along with the pension advocates by the ways and means committee.

The pension hearings represent a climax to four years of tumult over the principal of regular government payments to the aged.

Differences in the proposed systems, however, are placing congressmen who favor old age pensions in principle under a strong crossfire.

When the Townsend movement first started early in 1935, it was based on the principle that every person over 60 should be given a monthly pension of $200. This was modified last year to $100 as a maximum.

The bill provides for a two per cent transactions tax. These collections, amounting to hundreds of millions of dollars a month, would be distributed among all eligible persons over 60.

To become eligible a man or woman over 60 would have to wait the spend each pension payment within 30 days after receiving it.

Dr. Francis E. Townsend, originator of the plan, asserts the resultant overturn of currency would lead the nation into a period of unprecedented prosperity.

The general welfare act differs from the Townsend plan largely in that it substitutes a gross income tax for the transactions tax. It provides for a maximum monthly pension of $60 and a minimum of $30 depending on each beneficiary's income from other sources.

Like the Townsends, friends of the general welfare plan argue that congressional approval of their proposal would "spur economic prosperity and stabilize it."
